Blue & Brown Spirit Wing Commander

SIHH 2017 – This year, Speake-Marin presents for the first time two Wing Commander with a white dial. These two watches are a limited edition of 28 pieces.

Since the creation of Speake-Marin in 2002, the Swiss brand creates in its Swiss workshop high-end watches which are exhibited in cases in titanium with a distinctive design. In this case we find the most utilitarian of all Speake-Marin collections: The Spirit.

In 2015, these two models brought a little color to their dials parrying red, blue or orange. This year, Speake-Marin brings two new models to this collection: the Blue and Brown Spirit Wing Commander, in two limited editions of 28 watches.

For these models, as for the rest of Wing Commander Collection, Speake-Marin was inspired by the British military and pilots watches of 60 years ago to make a very pure vintage design with, for the first time, a white dial in the Wing Commander collection.

To obtain a greater legibility, the white dial is only dressed by 2 romans numerals, the indexes and a colored seconds disk. The last detail is the blue DLC coating on the case sides. These touches of refinement make it a distinctive symbol of the Spirit collection.

Two limited editions of 28 watches? The idea was to create very limited editions to allow Speake-Marin to realize multiple new ideas by creating ephemeral collections, without adding numerous watches to the existing collection.

Furthermore, the blue and the brown were chosen for their direct link with the identity of the brand which was refined this year!

A collection whose passionate motto of Peter Speake-Marin "Fight, Love & Persevere" is engraved on the case back of each watch. Much more than a motto for the creator, it is a lifestyle.

These two watches are a limited collection of 28 pieces.
